CenterPoint Education Solutions Partners with Illuminate Education

Partnership to enable more schools access to high-quality, standards-aligned K-12 assessments

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 31, 2017 – CenterPoint Education Solutions (www.centerpoineducation.org) announces a new partnership with Illuminate Education (www.illuminateed.com). Together, CenterPoint and Illuminate will provide districts, charter management organizations, and schools with access to high-quality diagnostic, formative, and interim assessments.

This partnership will provide Illuminate’s 1,600 school and district customers with access to CenterPoint’s standards-aligned content, delivered on the Illuminate Data and Assessment (DnA) platform. Through a seamless technology integration between the two organizations, CenterPoint will provide a growing set of assessments that are designed to assess student achievement of college- and career-ready standards, while the DnA platform will streamline the administration, reporting, and analysis of the results.

“Our content is designed by an experienced team of veteran classroom educators; former state, district, and school leaders; and assessment specialists,” says Laura Slover, CEO of CenterPoint. “CenterPoint is focused on ensuring all students have access to a great education. A key component is providing the tools and resources teachers need to improve instructional practice and boost student outcomes. We are excited about the opportunity to provide high-quality content to more schools and districts across the country through a proven platform like Illuminate DnA.”

“We share CenterPoint’s goal of success for all students and teachers,” says Lane Rankin, founder and CEO of Illuminate Education. “The partnership between Illuminate and CenterPoint will further assure our customers that the DnA platform offers high-quality assessments that deliver meaningful data to help their educators differentiate instruction.”
