PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES NOW AVAILABLE FOR INDIVIDUAL TEACHERS

WASHINGTON, D.C., November 8, 2017 – Individual teachers can now take charge of their professional learning journey with the same tools and resources used by hundreds of schools and districts nationwide with Previ PRC, the professional learning solution offered by CenterPoint Education Solutions (www.centerpointeducation.org).

The Previ PRC helps educators improve teaching and learning across all grades and content areas with an online platform that provides busy teachers access to tools and resources when it fits with their schedules. This is a particularly useful tool to supplement professional development programs for teachers from small schools or districts.

Accessible from laptops, desktops, or tablets at any time, Previ PRC simplifies professional learning by increasing educator access to high-quality tools and resources, such as:

- Hundreds of vetted multimedia resources in the digital library
- High-quality open educational resources (OER) from leading organizations
- Technology enhanced K-2 formative tasks
- Expert designed professional learning courses
- Personalized bookshelf for easy access to frequently used resources
- Online writing tools to create custom assessments items
- Networking with other PRC users to share ideas and resources

“Professional learning is an important part of educator success. The tools provided in Previ PRC are the catalyst for schools and districts to take teacher effectiveness to a higher level,” says Bonnie Hain, Ph.D., Chief Academic Officer of CenterPoint. “When teachers are provided with resources that are customized to their specific needs and delivered in a way that allows them to manage their own learning, they can more readily provide students the support they need to work toward college-and career-readiness.”

Annual subscriptions to the PRC are just $9.99 per person. For more information about Previ PRC visit www.previprc.org.
